PROJECTS

Flow — Full-Stack Productivity Web Application flow.anshul.space

Dec 2025 – Jan 2026

- ▶ Built and deployed a full-stack productivity web application to structure daily workflows and reduce distractions.
- ▶ Developed a modern, responsive UI using React, Next.js, and Tailwind CSS with a minimal, productivity-focused design.
- ▶ Implemented real-time backend functionality using Firebase, enabling persistent task tracking and session management.
- ▶ Designed core product features including task scheduling, focus sessions, and distraction-free workflow tools.

Tars — AI-Built Real-Time Chat Application tars.anshul.space · Source Code

- ▶ Built a full-stack real-time chat application end-to-end using an agent-based AI development workflow, completing the entire build — frontend, backend, and deployment — within 2–3 hours.
- ▶ Directed an AI coding agent through iterative prompts to scaffold the project, implement features, debug issues, and ship a production-ready app, demonstrating rapid prototyping and high development velocity.
- ▶ Implemented one-on-one chats, group conversations, real-time message sync (Convex), and authentication (Clerk).
- ▶ Built a responsive, modern UI with Next.js, TypeScript, Tailwind CSS, and Shadcn/UI, showcasing the ability to compress traditional development timelines while maintaining clean architecture.
